

You are on your way home from school. You take a short cut across the playing field to the back gate. When you get there, this is what you see. What would you do?